But this ware events of the past; we now have to battle with the present, and every one should see that he is suitably clothed so as to contend successfully in the battle of life. If you do not sleep well you cannot work well, and if your underclothing is unsuitable for this reason you cannot feel comfortable. TELEGRAMS

(via Galveston.)

Berlin, 19th—Fresh difficulties have cropped up in the Cabinet and excitement is general. The announcement of a partial crisis in the Cabinet and fresh disturbances caused yesterday by workmen has awakened anxiety. The papers state that the Emperor, desirous of being informed of the progress of the Education Bill in the Reichstag, summoned the ministers yesterday and entered into a discussion with them, the result being that the Minister of Education has resigned. The news spread very fast, causing great excitement in political circles.

While the Emperor was discussing with his Ministers, disturbances occurred in the streets, in consequence of a collision between the police and bodies of workmen who were on their way to the Friedrichsruhe Cemetery, where the remains are interred of the anarchists who perished in the 1848 insurrection. The workmen attacked the police. Several persons were wounded and many were arrested.

St. Petersburg, 19th—The Imperial family have just been warned by the Paris police that the Nihilists are preparing to assassinate the Czar.

Turin, 19th—A house in the outskirts of the city was destroyed to-day by an explosion. Six persons escaped miraculously. Four persons perished.

Brussels, 19th—Six miners were killed in the mine at Cuesmes.

Libau, (Russia) 19th—Amid the greatest popular rejoicings, in which Russian and North American officers took part, the first train laden with provisions sent from Philadelphia for the relief of the Russian peasants, was despatched to-day.

Lisbon, 19th—In spite of all the efforts of the Government it is feared, with good reason, that the payment of interest on the National Debt will be suspended. The creditors of the country will have to wait several years for their money.

Madrid, 19th—The copyright treaty with the United States was approved to-day.

Paris, 19th—The Anarchists appear to laugh at the vigilance of the police, who are vainly searching for them; and they continue to place dynamite in those houses which have been evacuated as suspicious. Yesterday the precautions were increased, as it was the anniversary of the Commune of 1871. The Chamber of Deputies has passed a Bill imposing severe penalties on those who blow up houses with dynamite.

Berlin, 19th—It is said that the loan of forty millions of marks has been issued to pay the Emperor's debts.

All over Germany great preparations are going on to celebrate on the 1st of April the 77th anniversary of the birth of Prince Bismarck.

Copenhagen, 19th—The Opposition having been defeated in the Free-trade debate in the Lower House, the Rigsdag has imposed heavy duties on wheat, flour and rye.

St. Petersburg, 19th—A three-story house in process of building fell to-day and killed thirteen workmen.

(From Havas Agency)

Rio Janeiro, 18th—The Brazilian Minister in Montevideo is to go to Madrid, and will be succeeded by the Minister in Mexico.

Rome, 18th—The Chamber of Deputies has passed the budget and a vote of confidence in the Government.

Lisbon, 18th—The Mercantile Bank, the Public Utility Company and other important business establishments have suspended payment. The financial situation in Oporto is also very bad. The Managing Director of the Bank of Commerce and Industry has disappeared, leaving a considerable deficit.

THE ORENOQUE MAILS.

London, Feb. 19th.

Mr. Balfour's Local Government bill was introduced to the House of Commons, and received with derision from all quarters. It pleases nobody.

A Sydney telegram reports that the Land Company of Australasia (Limited), one of the most important concerns of the kind in New South Wales, has suspended payment, in consequence of persistent withdrawals on the part of the local depositors. A meeting of the latter has been convened under the provisions of the new Joint Stock Act, which prevents a minority of the depositors forcing a company into liquidation.

A Reuter telegram from Paris says:—M. Laur, the Boulangist deputy who was struck by M. Constans during a debate in the Chamber of Deputies some weeks ago, has issued a summons against him for assault and battery, and the case will come before the Correctional Tribunal of the Seine. M. Andrieux, the former Prefect of Police and ex-deputy, will appear for M. Laur.

The French Ministry were defeated yesterday and resigned in a body. Their fall was due to the Bill on associations, a measure which, introduced by the Governmeut for the control of associations, was designed with particular reference to the anti-republican agitation recently carried on by certain Roman Catholic Bishops. M. Hubbard opened the debate with a motion for urgency for the Bill. The declaration of urgency, he said, would mean that Parliament intended to defend all the Republican institutions attacked by the chiefs of the Catholic Church. M. de Cassagnac, who followed, denounced the Bill as odious and hypocrital, its provisions ranging from violation of domicile to confiscation.

M. de Freycinet was the next speaker. He insisted that the Bill was a serious one, intended not to persecute the Church, but to settle the status of associations of all kinds. It would not apply to the Church as long as it was connected with the State; but if the clergy gave trouble the Government would know how to act. He called attention to the fact that the Cardinal's manifesto was for the separation of the Church and State, and expressed the opinion that the Pope, whom he called a clever man, had given proofs of sympathy to the Government. He had fifty times at least declared that he had no mandate to disestablish the Church, and did not believe there was a majority for such a task. Several other speakers followed, among them M. Clemenceau. He said that the struggle between Church and State would end in separation. The Catholic Church had been the Church of fourteen centuries. It had ruled and modelled all. Against this had the struggle been. And this law, whatever the will of the framers, was against religious congregations. All parliamentary subtleties were in vain. M. de Freycinet, having replied, though demurring to the course affairs had taken, said, "Propose a resolution indicating your prevailing wish, and I will reply. A number of resolutions were then sent up to the President and read from the chair with the names of the signers. One, signed by M. M. Trouillot, Lasserre and Boisserin, that the Government be requested to continue its Republican policy, was accepted by the Government. M. de Freycinet clearly stated that if the Chamber did not adopt this resolution it would indicate that it did not approve the policy of the Government during its lease of office. "It will only remain for us to hand over the power to others who understand better than we the will of the Chamber."

The voting was then proceeded with, and, by 304 votes to 212, out of 516 voters, the resolution was rejected. The Ministers at once rose from their seats and left the Chamber. The vote on the original proposal of the interpellator followed—namely, the simple demand for a declaration of urgency, and, by 286 votes to 246, urgency was not declared. "The Chamber will, perhaps, wish to adjourn until Monday," said the President, and this was agreed to.

A sensational ocurrence is reported from Cannes. An American lady and gentleman from Cincinnati, Mr. and Mrs. Parker Deacon, have been stopping for some time at the Hotel Splendide. Three days ago a young Embassy attaché, M. Abeile, also arrived there; he had known Mr. and Mrs. Deacon in Paris, and renewed the acquaintance. Shortly after midnight on Wednesday Mr. Deacon went to his wife's room, and, finding the door bolted, forced an entrance. M. Abeile was discoverred trying to get into an adjoining room through the communicating doors. Mr. Deacon drew his revolver and fired three shots at M. Abeile, wounding him so seriously in the breast and hip that he died yesterday morning. Mrs. Deacon, who is the mother of four children, made her escape. Mr. Deacon is in custody.

THE ST. PATRICK'S BANQUET.

SPEECH OF H. E. THE MINISTER OF FINANCE.

Owing to the press of matter yesterday we could not give in full the eloquent speech of Don Emilio Hansen, which was beyond all question the finest ever delivered at any banquet in Buenos Ayres. In order to make it fully known in Europe and elsewhere we shall print a large number of extra copies, and send some to the principal newspapers of G. Britain, Ireland, U. States, Canada, Australia and South Africa, with a request to reproduce it. The new Finance Minister is entitled to the lasting esteem of every man who has any love for Ireland. His speech was as follows:—

Gentlemen.

It is my happy privilege to propose to you a toast, which, repeated on this anniversary so full of tender and patriotic memories to you all at every festive board where the sons of Hibernia assemble to do honour to their Mother Country, as the revolving hours bring forth the shades of night, encircling as it were the earth, in one prolonged and enthusiastic cry "Salve Hibernia" "Prosperity to Ireland."

How grateful the task which devolves on me I need not say, for in my veins runs the blood of your race, and the mother of my children is of the fair daughters of Erin.

Gentlemen.

One of the finest and most marked traits of the Irish character is their unswerving loyalty and passionate attachment to the land of their birth, "Bright Erin", The gem of the sea.

Centuries of oppression by an alien race, persecution and sufferings of the direst description have been powerless to eradicate—to even diminish this sentiment, which would seem to burn the brighter the more bitter the suffering endured; and this, which in the past is a monument to the heroic endurance and deep-rootedindividuality of the Irish race must in the coming times be the corner stone on which they will erect the noble structure of their national greatness.

For the genius of the Irish race is not merely to endure, but also to act, to strive and to attain.

When the western world was yet almost universally enshrouded in the profound gloom of ignorance and idolatry, already was Ireland far advanced in the paths of progress and civilization; in her schools learning flourished, and her temples were the sanctuaries of the true religion.

But the gentle arts of peace were ill fitted to cope with the evils of those rude times, when the clash of arms filled the universe and "might" was the only right.

Preyed on unceasingly by those fierce rovers of the sea whose only trade was war, harassed and torn by the dissensions of civil discord, those halcyon days departed, and in the gloom and confusion of the Iron Age that succeeded, bleeding from every wound, Ireland's very self became a prize to the stranger.

Vanquished but not subdued, though impoverished and unarmed, Ireland struggled again and again to cast off her shackles, but struggled in vain. "Might" was yet right, and for the vanquished there was neither justice nor "mercy."

On Irish soil the Irishman was as a pariah; no field was open to his honorable ambition, no path whereby to impel the progress of his country; and, in the ignorant intolerance of the times, his very industry became an object of suspicion and was persecuted, as if to create had become a crime!!

But if in the land of his birth there was no place for him, yet lay the world before him; and wherever men strove and bled, there Ireland's name was honoured! there strove and died her sons!

That spirit and energy which under happier circumstances would have been exerted to enrich and exalt his native land, diverted from their legitimate channel, and forced by the fatality of circumstances into the isolation of individual effort, made the Irishman a wanderer oe'r the face of the earth, seeking with his good sword to hew a way to that fame and fortune which in his motherland were denied him.

But a race of such powerful vitality could not go on for ever vainly wasting their strength on individual endeavours; an opportunity was needed to give play to that collective enterprise and spirit of progress which in the olden days had made Erin flourish, and the opportunity came.

Latent in the bosom of the New World were the elements of which nations are built, and here in the struggle and victory o'er nature's forces the energy of the race found potent expression.

In the boundless territories of the Great Republic, or where the Southern Cross casts its mild effulgence o'er the limitless pampa, there we find the Irishman, building up nations, serving as it were an apprenticeship against the time when Providence shall call on him to again build up his native land.

And now that the new day is dawning, who can doubt of the brightness that is to follow?

In the new spirit of justice and equity which, finding expression in these later days, ennobles the age we live in as the commencement of an era when reason shall prevail over brute force, the wrongs of Ireland obtain reparation, and her rights are recognized.

Forming in equal brotherhood with his oppressor of yesterday, to carry out, united, the destinies of that great empire in whose creation the Irishman has borne so glorious a part, who can measure the majestic sweep of their onward march into the grand futurity of nations! Who can say to what altitude a race endowed with such splendid qualities may not exalt itself!

Gentlemen,

A poet has said that the little forest bird, untaught, pours forth in song the melody that thrills its being; but man, more limited in his faculties, though the fire of passion consume, lacks speech—lacks words to clothe his thoughts, to give utterance to the deep longing of his soul.

Thus, when to the vision of my mind appear the long vistas of gladness which the future must surely open to the children of Ireland, my tongue becomes powerless to express the emotions that swell my heart, and I can only exclaim once more Prosperity to Ireland!!

OUR LONDON LETTER.

HALF-HOUR WITH THE Statist.

(From our own Correspondent.)

Feb. 20th.

Mr. R. Bruzon, 9 and 11 Fenchurch Avenue, writes to the Statist recommending a remedy for the retention of the premium on gold in the Argentina. Like the Buenos Ayres correspondents of the Economist and South American Journal, Mr. Bruzon ridicules the notion of certain bankers and financiers in London, that heavy remittances of gold by London syndicates to Buenos Ayres, or that heavy crops of produce and increased exports have any permanent effect on the gold premium. The more gold they receive in Buenos Ayres, the more will they acquire the habit of adjusting their transactions in gold and so further depreciate the paper dollar. "Any amount of gold importation in the Argentine" says Mr. Bruzon, "can put nothing at the back of the inconvertible paper currency." He thinks there is but one remedy—the creation of a special fund for the redemption of the currency. He suggests that this fund should be raised by taxation ad hoc, and the tax collected and the administration of the fund superintended by a committee elected by popular vote and responsible for its acts to the government. The process of conversion is to extend over several years, and on a scale something in this way;

Discount 70 p. cent to June 1892,
" 65 " end of 1892,
" 60 " first half 1893,
" 55 " end of 1893,

and so on reducing the discount at the rate of 5 per cent every half year until par be reached.

Mr. Bruzon is pretty nearly right, though not quite, when he says that the crisis in the Argentine is purely a question of mal-administration; and that only wise administration can restore the credit of the country. He enters into many particulars which you will see for yourselves in this week's Statist, if you are inclined to criticise the scheme.

The same paper gives a table of exports of British and Irish produce to the countries specified in the year 1891 in comparison with 1890. I observe that whilst the decrease in exports to India amounts to about 1/13th, and to the U. States 1/7th, the exports to the Argentine Republic have diminished nearly one half. The figures are:—

1891	1890	Decrease
£4,240,602	8,416,112	4,175,510

Of twenty or thirty countries named in the table, the net decrease in British exports in 1891 compared with 1890 is £16,258,312. The U. States and Argentina figure together for £8,600,000 of this sum. The falling off elsewhere is principally in the East, India and Japan, and also in Chile, Uruguay, and Italy. The last named shows 1/5th diminution, which must be ascribed to the new conditions occasioned by railway communication with Central and Northern Europe. There is a very small falling off in British exports to Germany, and probably many imports of British manufactures in Italy are entered as German.

You will receive particulars in regard to the success of the Uruguay conversion as opposed to the Antwerp committee and other dissentients; also in regard to proposals to shareholders of the English Bank; and finally in regard to the Murrietta debenture dispute. These things may be considered as the last outstandings of the River Plate crisis. Whatever else follows will belong to the new dispensation to succeed the elections in the Argentine. Mr. Edward Casey is said to have left in the Wordsworth for Pampaland. There is evidently nothing more to be done here. There is a great deal of what in "Statistical" language is called "liquid money" about, but it will not dribble your way for some time to come. The Murrietta debenture holders have held no less than three meetings this week, and the question with the Mexican and South American Trust is not settled yet. "If," says the Statist, "the matter does go before the courts, we may expect much interesting information as to the way in which in these latter days business is conducted in the city by eminent firms and influential financial concerns. We may add in conclusion that the Bank of England, which had made a large advance to the Messrs Murrietta and Company, and had a first lien upon certain of the assets, has surrendered its claim in consideration for monthly payments continued for a year and a half, which will discharge the debt due to it."

That is all there is to tell you about finance. The day is gone by when one could depend upon Saturday copy by prigging from rasping articles about "The Argentine Collapse." The faithful Financial News contains only a little joke about Argentine impecuniosity, and even that was founded on some casual paragraph in the B. Ayres STANDARD. You will be more interested in the weather. It is pleasant to read about fogs, snow-storms and gales when the thermometer with you is 80 in the shade. As for politics we have had enough of them this week. The evening papers to-night seem exhausted. There is one little social event that is of interest. You will have seen an account of a Mrs Montague who shut up her little daughter in a small room or cupboard and tied the little thing—it was only 3 years old—to a ring in the wall and there left it for being naughty. The governess had in the first instance placed the child there according to custom when it was naughty. When the mother returned home to luncheon she of course assumed the responsibility of further proceedings. When at five o'clock in the afternoon she went to the room to see after the child it was dead. Mrs Margaret Montague is now arrested and lodged in Coleraine police station. The affair has created a painful interest in political circles. The father of the child is a son of Lord Robert Montague's. The eldest son of the lady who is now accused of murdering her own daughter is within one life of being the presumptive heir to the dukedom of Manchester.

A case not yet finished is interesting to editors and correspondents. Mr. Lowe, the Berlin correspondent of the Times, is suing Mr. John Walter for £1000, a year's salary which he claims as due according to the custom of the press on his dimissal without twelve months' notice. The dignitaries of the London press are put in the box to give evidence as to custom in these cases. The judge is Lord Coleridge.

LATEST FROM MONTEVIDEO.

March 19th.

The Senate have approved "en general" the financial Bills, which are being discussed to-day "en particular."

The Deputies are not discussing anything of importance at present. They are as yet undecided as to what amount is to be spent in representing Uruguay at the Chicago Exhibition.

Government received yesterday a telegram from London stating that up to date 13¼ millions sterling of bonds have been converted under the new arrangement.

The papers comment on the frauds of the Waterworks Company in importing articles free of duty and selling them in the market. It is calculated that the State has in this way been defrauded of two million dollars. It appears that other companies enjoying the privilege of exemption from duties have committed similar abuses.

The passengers by the Victoria, Desterro, and Pelotas, were yesterday released from quarantine.

The Espague, which went aground near Flores Isjand, was successfully got off, and left last evening for B. Ayres.

Telegrams from London report the quotation of Uruguayan Debt at 40.

PROVINCIAL NEWS.

There was nothing particularly fresh or interesting from the provinces yesterday. In the outrage line, one incident was reported. Two honest Italians were ill-treated in Santa Clara, Santa Fé, by the local authorities. These sturdy Ausonians, knowing by experience what consequences virtuous resistance often involves, submitted to the ill-treatment without murmuring, but as soon as they were released, they took the train to Rosario, called on the Italian consul, and filed a complaint.

Our Rosario exchanges state that the National Bank has protested a bill for $130,000 signed by Juan M. Cafferata and Tristan Malbran. The Bank in question has begun to protest right and left, and we dare say some bills for large sums will soon be made known. One Rosarian gentleman is supposed to owe a bank or several banks many millions of money.

The Cordoba Government is at present busy enrolling the National guard. There are to be three regiments of the guard in Cordoba, the doctoral.

Another bombshell has burst in the political camp in La Plata. Dr. Carlos Costa has resigned his post in the management of the provincial party. It appears that Mr. Costa met with some opposition from the committee in his candidate elections. So he resigned.

Telegrams received from Mendoza yesterday report the death of Don Salvador Civit, one of the leading men in that province. Mr. Civit was a conspicuous member of the Union Civica Nacional.

Our readers may remember that some time ago we chronicled the murder of Mrs Stoessel in Esperanza colony. There was an atmosphere of mystery about this crime. The unfortunate lady was found butchered in her bedroom, but no trace of the murderer or murderers could be discovered. The indignation of the settlers in Esperanza was very great, as Mrs. Stoessel, the relict of the Argentine Consul in Switzerland, was held in high esteem and was the benefactress of the poor in the colony. Looking over a Santa Fé exchange yesterday, we find that the murderer has been traced and captured. The ruffian's name is Leguizamon. He is a well-known cut-throat and he generally worked in company with the no less famous Miga, who was caught recently. This last-named murdered a whole family in one of the frontier settlements of Santa Fé. It has not been actually proved that Leguizamon murdered Mrs. Stoessel, but the evidence against him is very strong. It is to be hoped the authorities will for once make an example of this infamous miscreant, whose crimes have struck consternation in most of the Santa Fé colonies.

The Capital of Rosario says that harvest "peones" are buying up land in the colonies. This is about the safest investment for their earnings. Next year these 'peones' will have developed into wheat farmers, and by and bye some of them will be living in palaces in Milan or Florence.

Telegrams from Sta. Fé report the destruction by fire of the immense deposits of Messrs. Gafner and Argenti in Esperanza. The losses are over $100,000.

SILVER 90¼ CENTS.

The steady fall in the price of silver since the enactment of the silver purchase Act of 1890 to the lowest point ever reached, directly in the face of the purchase of 4,500,000 ounces per month by the United States Treasury, has called forth various explanations of its cause.

From the extreme price of $1.21 per ounce on August 19, 1890, the downward tendency was steady and constant to July, 1891, when large purchases by Spain and other European countries brought about a slight temporary rise. Since then, however, the fall has been rapid, and on Wednesday sales were made in New York at 90¼ cents, or 7 mills less than the lowest price ever known—01.2 cents on May 19, 1888.

The high prices during the summer of 1890 were not alone due to speculative purchases based on the belief that the new Silver Act would materially increase the price of silver, but in large measure also to the heavy purchases by India. The exports of silver from England to India have been as follows for the past five years:

1887	5,098,000
1888	5,361,000
1889	8,170,000
1890	8,009,000
1891	5,484,000

Showing that India bought an abnormal quantity of silver in 1889 and 1890 as compared with her purchases before and since. These purchases coming at the same time as the agitation in favor of free coinage in the United States, and the passage of the silver purchase Act, together with the rise of speculative purchases, were the causes which brought about the high prices ruling in 1890. The fall in the price of silver since August 1890 has been due not to a single cause, but to a number of causes operating together. The first and most important of these is without doubt the large increase in the production of silver in 1890 over previous years.

An increase of 18.45 per cent in 1890 over 1888.

In is claimed, however, that though the production of silver has largely increased, the purchase and storing of 54,000,000 ounces yearly by the United States Treasury, the largely decreased stock of silver in the New York and London markets, and the actual increase in exports of silver from Great Britain is 1891 as compared with 1890 show that the demand for silver has more than taken up the increased supply, and that therefore, the price ought to have risen rather than fallen. The facts cited in support of this claim are accurate, for the stock of silver held by the Mercantile Safe Deposit Company in New York, which was 7,451,053 ounces on August 31, 1890, is now only 3,245,522 ounces. And the total exports of silver from Great Britain were £13,114,589 in 1891 as compared with £10,890,384 in 1890. But the fact remains that silver has fallen in price. These explanations do not, therefore, account for the difficulty, and we must seek elsewhere for the causes.

The total purchases of silver bullion by the Treasury, under the Act of 1890, amounted to over 75,500,000 ounces to January 1st, 1892. All of this remains uncoined in the Treasury vaults. The firm conviction of the mercantile world that, in the face of constantly increasing production, the United States cannot continue indefinitely to pile up 1874 tons of silver per month in its vaults, but must at some time force its stock upon the market, either as coin or bullion, has a tremendous moral effect upon the price of silver.

At the same time it is the growing opinion of bullion dealers and experts that the production of silver in the world has been under-estimated by the Director of the Mint. It is claimed that he has not taken into account the large amount of silver imported into Great Britain from Australia and other countries in the form of silver-lead and there smelted. Such imports are not accounted for in the Board of Trade reports, nor are they included in the production of silver in Great Britain. The quality of silver produced in this way cannot be given. That it amounts to a large quantity is freely admitted by such silver statisticians as Pixley and Abell. That a large amount of silver is imported into Great Britain in this form is shown in the excess of exports over imports. During the four years ending with 1891 the total imports were £35,100,779, and the exports £42,286,713, an excess of exports of £7,185,934. This excess of exports can be accounted for in but two ways, either by the bringing out of hoarded stock and plate, or by the imports of silver lead, of which no account has been taken.

The utter failure of the silver law of 1890 permanently to keep up the price of silver is ipso facto one of the causes of the decline in price.

The recent heavy decline of silver, it seems, has convinced many of the leading silver producers of the West that, under the present circumstances, no free coinage bill can become law, for they have of late made large sales in New York. Since these advocates of free coinage are becoming convinced that the United States will not, by independent free coinage, undertake the impossible task of restoring silver to par, the prospects of an international bi-metallic agreement are certainly becoming brighter.—N. Y. Com. Bulletin.

B. AYRES CRICKET CLUB.

March 19th.

Mr. Editor,

I read in your issue of to-day no less than three letters criticising my remarks on what occurred at the last general meeting.

"R. W. A." commences his letter by saying that in contradiction to my wish, I only foster dissension by rushing into print, to which I must maintain that the harm had already been done by the members who convened the meeting, with the firm intention of smothering Lawn Tennis. As for the members being well whipped in, I found no fault with, and only inferred that the purely cricketing portion was to be congratulated on its better management. This also applies to "Umpire," who speaks up well in his letter, for an outsider, but whose severity might lead one rather to think he belied his pseudonym. With regard to the origin of the circular "R. W. A." seems not to have taken note, that I was careful enough to imply it was unknown and used the expression "supposed member."

Both "Umpire" and "A Lady" think I had better consummate my "nom de plume" and really resign. I am sorry to be unable to do this, "about to resign" simply being my usual attitude towards most clubs in the republic and especially so towards one in which narrow-minded members exist and seem to flourish.

Yours etc.,
About to resign.

Mr. Editor,

Your correspondent "Don" in your issue of the 18th inst., makes the statement that he knows who is the author of the disgraceful circular that was distributed prior to the general meeting of the Club, and furthermore that he was a speaker on the so-called ladies' side.

Now, Mr. Editor, we consider that if "Don" do really posses this knowledge, it is his bounden duty, in justice to the members of the Club, and especially to such members as have been wrongly suspected of having originated the circular, to lay his information and proofs before some official of the Club, or forever afterwards figure (although anonymously) as a slanderer.

Various members.

UNITED STATES MILITIA.

The abstract of the militia force of the United States has just been submitted to Congress. It shows a total strength of 110,710 organized and well drilled, and 8,567,258 enrolled but not organized. A net increase of 4,449 organized and 872,016 unorganized over 1890.

The State having the largest organized force is, as might be expected, New York, with 13,546 men. Next comes Pennsylvania with 8,468, then South Carolina with 5,616, Massachusetts with 5,511, and Ohio with 5,374. California, Georgia, Illinois and New Jersey have over 4,000 each.

Military drill is taught in a thorough manner in the upper grade schools with great success, in most of the cities and large towns.

So diffused is the knowledge of military drill in the U. States that civic processions march in military order and execute many movements with considerable precission.

THE SKATING RINK TELEGRAM.

March 18th.

Mr. Editor.

I observe in your issue of to-day my name is mentioned in connection with a Mr. Ridgely, and the contents of a telegram from Martin Garcia Island.

I beg to advise you that this telegram is published without my authority, and that I am quite ignorant of what it refers to.

Yours faithfully,
F. H. Chevallier Boutell.

RAILWAY ITEMS.

One of the passengers injured during the recent accident on the Pacific Railway near Bella Vista, has succumbed to his injuries.

The Local Board of the Argentine North-Eastern have forwarded to Government the acccount for guarantee due on the sections from Monte Caseros to Mercedes and from Corrientes to Saladas for the half year ended Dec. 31 ult. The amount is $220,423 gold. According to the company's statements the returns have not even covered expenses.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

To morrow will be the first day of the River Plate autumn, the most entrancing season in the whole world. There was a touch of it in the air yesterday, and most people looked happy. Politicians did n't, and refused to tell us when we asked them why.

The Orenoque's mails from Europe are interesting. It is beginning to dawn on our slow-thinking London friends that the Lidderdale-Rothschild Moratorium Loan was a huge blunder. We told them so at the time, but the poor dear fellows preferred to take fifteen months to think the matter out for themselves, and now they are on the point of grasping it. Better late than never.

The Mecca for crowds of people to-day is Uncle Sam's squadron at La Plata. We recommend a prodigiously early rush to the Central Station.

We're up to our hat in love with the superb Almanack for 1892 of the Victoria Stone Company sent to us yesterday by the popular agents, Messrs. Childs, Saunders and Co., of Calle Lavalle. The Queen's bust in it is quite a work of art.

An evening colleague hints that our off-hand relative Cousin Jonathan is engaged in a desperate flirtation with lovely Argentina, and that Admiral Walker is Cupid's messenger. You bet.

The National Bank muddle is developing. The letters from one of the dismissed Directors published yesterday sound like the bang of a bomb-shell.

Yesterday at 4 p.m. the members of the Ladies' Club entertained the Hon. Mrs. Pakenham at tea and presented her as a parting souvenir with the complete silver trappings of a gaucho. Mrs. Pakenham expressed her thanks very warmly, and her hope of again seeing her numerous friends

The ball held at the Salon "La France" on Saint Patrick's Day was a great success and reflected much credit upon the Committee of management. No hitch occurred in the proceedings and all passed off merrily. In the interval Mr. C. H. Weir sang some Irish songs in character, which greatly added to the evening's enjoyment. The only thing to be regretted is that a number of ladies were prevented from attending owing to the heavy rain. The dancers dispersed at 5 a.m. happy in the knowledge that they had done their best for the honour of "Old Ireland."

It is a fact worth recording that Sir Vincent Barrington, the philanthropist, who is making such efforts to promote the St. John's Ambulance Association in South America, is grandson of Sir Jonah Barrington, the historian, whose "Rise and fall of the Irish Nation" is so well known. O'Connell said that it ought to be printed in letters of gold. Sir Vincent is one of the most indefatigable members of the Geneva Red Cross society. He was all through the war of the Balkans and especially the defence of Shipka Pass, when he had six ambulances and six hospitals for the wounded, Russian as well as Turk. He was also in the last Carlist war, and had some narrow escapes. We may add that in the campaign of Shipka Pass he received valuable aid from Mr. Cullen, who came to Buenos Ayres a few months ago as an agent for Baron Hirsch. In an age when men give nearly all their attention to money-making it is gratifying to see some, like Sir Vincent Barrington, devote their lives to the relief of suffering humanity. He tells us that his ablest co adjutors in all works of mercy have been the sisters of St. Vincent de Paul or Sisters of Charity. By the way, his own name of Vincent is peculiarly suited to his calling.

A friendship of many years prevailed between the late M. Emile de Laveleye and Mr. Michael G. Mulhall. Yesterday's mail brought a letter from Madame de Laveleye to our editor enclosing a photograph of the late economist. Only a few days before his death he wrote to Mr. Mulhall a hearty congratulation on his new Dictionary of Statistics.

The races to-day in Palermo give promise of some good sport, our selections for the various events being as follows:—

Premio Perdedores—Polaina
" Fama—Falucho
" Criadores—Stud Buenos Aires
" Rafaga—Gloria or Cabula
" Resistencia—Athos
" Revancha—Diamond
" Consuelo—Nubifer or Tala

There was a fashionable wedding at St. Lawrence's Church Belgrano at 2 p.m. yesterday. Mr. Robert Bankon Mac Iver, of the firm David Mac Iver of Liverpool, was married to Miss Maud C. Troutbeck of Belgrano. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Pelham Ogle, the bride being given away by Mr. Wm. Goodwin. The chancel was very tastefully decorated by the Misses Stockdale and other ladies of the Congregation. The Choir asssisted also, accompanied by the organist, Mrs. Barton. The church was full to overflowing, in which might be seen the grace, youth and beauty of the ladies of the town. The youthful and happy pair, after the ceremony, left for Montevideo en route for England to spend the honeymoon.

Oh! There is an ugly rumour referred to by an evening colleague to the effect that one of the leading publishing firms in the city is about to be prosecuted for having a hand in letting loose the flood of immoral literature and pictures to be seen of late in this city.

The Argentine Gold Eagle is sick with envy. His Paraguayan brother has reached 460 premium, while he is pining at 245.

Yellow fever now claims regularly its half a hundred daily victims in the capital of Brazil, and many of the deaths are so sudden that the population is terrified. We find the following paragraph in the Rio News of 8th inst.: "The Pacific steamer Britannia left port on Saturday last at midday, but returned two hours later with one passenger dead and two ill from yellow fever. A second death occurred soon after her return. These passengers had been received that morning and had been subjected to a medical examination before going on board. The steamer left at 6 o'clock in the evening."

There is rather queer news from Montevideo about the fossil discovered in the Cathedral there. It appears that it has been examined by a distinguished economist, who finds that it is the jawbone of a prehistoric whale. An economist pronouncing on the merits of a fossil is something new, even in this Jacks-of-all-trades quarter of the earth, where no man cares to stick to his own last—perhaps because he knows so little about it.

Arrangements are being made for a game of Base Ball at Palermo, in which the officers of Admiral Walker's squadron and the members of the American Base Ball Club here will take part.

Dear Sirs—
"I have tried HAYWARD'S "PASTE" DIP on my Sheep, and have pleasure in bearing testimony to its efficacy as a DIP. I need have no hesitation in recommending it generally as a Cure for Scab, without discolouring or damaging the Wool.
The "PASTE" is in my opinion preferable to the Powder, and will probably have a larger sale than the latter."
Yours very truly
(Signed)
JOHN KELLIE.
It has been proved by many important Estancieros that HAYWARD'S PASTE is more convenient to use than any other Dip, being already mixed and dissolving in any kind of water. It makes a smooth soapy bath which adheres well to the Fleece and leaves the wool clean and soft.

ON 'CHANGE.

Saturday, March 19th.

The wiseacres predicted a rise in gold this morning. They were right, but the rise did not amount to much. A heavy amount of gold was thrown on the market, and the supply was a brake for the rising tendency. Twenty-six thousand ounces changed hands at the first ring; the price opened at $56, fell to 55.50, but closed hard at 56.20, say 245¼ % premium. About two thousand sovereigns were sold at 17.40 to 17.42, say 245¾ % premium. The feeling in the speculation was very firm all morning, and the premium would have risen considerably but for the abnormal supply of gold from certain quarters. It is, indeed, strange that the National Bank imbroglio, the crisis in the Caja de Conversion, and last, not least, the financial news from London, have had little or no effect upon the gold market. The crash of Murrieta, the dead-lock in the Baring liquidation, must produce a very bad impression and much distrust in London.

Patriotic Bonds were weak this morning, closing at 59.80. Catalinas were steady at 7.40. National Cedulas E rose to 74¼ and C to 71¼. La Plata Cedulas began to fall off to-day: L and M held their ground at 30¼, but N fell to 30.20 and O to 30.30.

The exchange market showed no change to-day; rates remained in statu quo. Discounts continue difficult.

The following is a summary of the business effected in stocks and shares at the first ring to-day:—

South American Ounces—
For cash.... 25,679 at 56-55.90-56-56.10-20

Sovereigns—

For cash..M 165,000 at 30.40-50
For cash..N 51,000 at 30.50-40-20
For cash..O 135,500 at 30.50-40-20

We take the following from the Financial News:—

The unfortunate house of Baring, to use Mr. E. G. Swann's phrase at the Portuguese meeting, was not without its share of the responsibility for the first causes of the misfortunes of the Manchester Ship Canal. The shareholders' committee has been "heckling" the corporation directors of the company as to the reason why the contract was made with the late Mr. T. A. Walker, instead of Messrs Lucas and Aird, seeing that the tenders worked out to about the same amount. The reply is that Messrs. Lucas and Aird offered to take payment in shares up to £100,000 only, whereas Mr. Walker undertook to accept £500,000. This led to an inquiry as to Mr. Walker's financial position at the time, and his references to Messrs. Baring are said to have been all that the Ship Canal Company could desire. But Mr. Walker, some time before his death, suspended payment of his instalments on the £500,000 of stock. Had Mr. Walker lived, and Messrs. Baring continued to assist him," the corporation directors remark, "a very different state of affairs would have been experienced," though, with the wisdom which follows the event they add: "How long he would have continued (i.e., to pay] they were not able to say." The fact that Mr. Walker was also the contractor for large works in Buenos Ayres in which Messrs. Baring were interested will, perhaps, sufficiently explain why that "unfortunate house" financed him as long as it was able to in his equally unfortunate Ship Canal operations."

The following figures relating to the conversion of the Uruguay debt will be read with interest;—

"The Council of Foreign Bondholders has been informed by Messrs. Glyn, Mills, Currie and Co., the agents for the conversion of the External Loans of the Republic of Uruguay, that bonds for £14,750,500 have been lodged for conversion, as follows:—

Unified Five per Cent Loan of 1883		9,023,900
Six per Cent Loan of 1888.....		3,746,600
Six per Cent Loan of 1890....		1,980,000
Total.....		£14,750,500
Out of	£10,624,400	Unified outstanding.
Out of	4,119,900	Six per Cent Loan of 1888 outstanding.
Out of	1,980,000	Six per Cent Loan of 1890 outstanding.

The scandals in the management of the branch of the National Bank in Corrientes are the topic of the day. In a previous issue we gave a list of discounts supposed to have been made in favor of "

with an outline of any proposal it is intended to submit, and with any other information it may require. The Court then lays down the procedure which shall be given and the details that shall be afforded to the creditors before they are summoned together to assent or dissent to any proposal."

Telegrams from Rio quote exchange on London at 12d.

The Allan line s.s. Waldensian, which arrived at Montevideo on the 18th inst. from Glasgow, Liverpool and Havre, spoke the following vessels during the voyage:—

February 29th—Spoke British ship Lord Canning, bound to San Francisco, wish to be reported, all well, lat. 25.07 W., long. 21.41 W.

March 1—Danish brig W. R. Q. C., Antwerp to Rio de Janeiro, wish to be reported; lat. 28.8 N., long. 23.23 W.

March 16—British barque Polly Woodside, of Belfast, bound N., lat. 33.8 S., long. 51.5 W.

The Land and Colonies Office proposes to collect for state colonies in the future:—

In the Yeruá colony—$40 per hectare for clean camp; $60 per hectare for camp with house and fence; quintas $80 per hectare and building sites of 250 hectares for $750%.

In the Alvear colony—$25 per hectare; in Chacabuco $10 do.; in Maipu, $10 do.; in Conesa $8 do; in Frias $8 do; in Roca $8 do; in Santa Ana $10 do; in Candelaria $10 do.

The Government paid to-day $76,356 to the secretary of the National Deputies for the expenses of the month.

The Government has accepted a proposal to repair the school of Arts and Trades at San Martin, the future residence of the Military School.

The Lord Mayor has informed the Minister of the Interior that it is necessary to have the Calle Pichincha in the vicinity of Calle Caseros paved. The Plaza de Armas of the Arsenal is being paved for account of the Municipality, and His Lordship expects the Government to contribute something towards the improvement and embellishment of that essentially military quarter.

The cheques of the State banks continued at the same rates of discount as yesterday.

The Platense steamer Mercurio will leave Patagones on Monday or Tuesday for San Blas. She is expected here this day week.

Owing to the heavy rains in the far South the salt lakes of the Rio Negro Salt Co. are filled with water and working has been suspended.

The gold market ruled bullish at the second ring, but the speculation was dull; about six thousand ounces were sold for Monday: the price opened at $56.30, rose to $56.40, and closed at $56.30, say 240% premium. Sovereigns opened at $17.47 and closed at $17.48.

La Plata Cedulas began to fizzle at an alarming rate; all the favorite series closed at 29.80. National Cedulas A changed hands at 94. Patriotic Bonds fainted, closing at 59.30 for Monday.

The following is a summary of the business effected in stocks and shares to-day at the second ring:—

We take the following from the M. Video Times:—

"The Minister of Finance writes to the Siglo under date March 16th as follows:—

"I have been informed that the Epoca of this morning affirms that at some time I have managed the operations of the "Special Account" of the National Bank. I hasten to deny such a completely false and calumnious assertion. I have neither intervened in any operation of the "Special Account" nor have I ever authorised others do so. This can always be attested by the minutes of the sessions and by all persons who form or have formed part of the Directorate.

"I remain, etc.,

"Carlos M. Ramirez."

"The public debate in the Senate on the Banking Bills came to an abrupt break on Wednesday, at a very exciting moment, and the discussion was continued in General Committee, with closed doors, where, according to popular report, it was stormy enough. At the present moment we are not aware if the public discussion was resumed yesterday or not.

According to yesterday's Razon President Herrera went to the length of writing letters to some of the leaders of the opposition in the Senate, saying that he regarded the violent tone taken in this debate as an "open war" upon the Executive, and asking them to employ means to get this tone modified. This is certainly a very neat way of silencing the opposition when matters begin to get "warm."

"The paper just mentioned gives the following as the leading modifications in the Banking Bills, proposed by the opposition and accepted by Government. A reduction to three months instead of six of the term for establishing the new Bank. The exaction from the syndicate of a guarantee of $50,000, for the fulfilment of the foregoing. Election of the persons to be charged with the liquidation of the National Bank."

TEA
INJURIOUS TEA DRINKING.
In the "Daily Post" of September 2 appears a leading article—evidently from an analytical expert—showing that after 15 minutes "draw," Indian Tea yields 17·73 of tannin, while from China comes only 7·93. What this means few know, but those troubled with indigestion may realise in part by use of True China Tea for one week.
GUARANTEED PURE.
Beware of gross, imitations of this well-known mark. Sold in tins of 1, 3, 6 and 12 lbs.

To the Public.
Every kind of printing can be done promptly and cheaply in the Imprenta Helvetica, Calle Corrientes 2322.
Orders received by the foreman of the "Standard."

At the Estancia Grande, the property of GEORGE BELL, there are always on Sale Clydesdale and Cleveland Stallions, Durham Bulls, and Lincoln Rams, also Potros suitable for carriages and heavy draught.
As all animals offered for sale at this Estancia are by stallions, bulls, etc., imported direct from England by the owner, it would therefore be advantageous for intending purchasers to inspect the same before purchasing elsewhere.
Nearest Station (under a league from the Estancia) EMPALME PEREIRA F.C. a La Plata from whence animals can be despatched to any part of the Republic.
Animals of the same breeds are obtainable at the Estancia La Favorita. Apply to the Mayordomo, Almacen La Suiza, Carrera Tandil a Necochea, or to Hotel Dhees, Tandil; also at Estancia Santa Catalina. Apply Mayordomo, San Jose de la Esquina, F.C.O.S. Rosario.

CANNON'S
which obtained the only Prize medal at the Exhibition in Edinburgh, 1890, and the eulogiums of all the Agricultural Press at the Royal Agricultural Show at Doncaster in 1891, where were exhibited Skins dressed with Cannon's Dip and those undressed showing a difference in value of over 25/ per dozen in favor of Cannon's Fluid. These Skins will be exhibited at the Feria of the Sociedad Rural at Dolores, Chascomus, Balcarce, Azul etc.
This Dip has the following advantages:—It never stains the wool, but augments the growth and ensures the highest value in the market. It is easy to use, being readily soluble in cold water, and hand curing is rarely required after.
